FROM THE HELM

Commodore – Gary Sanders

I hope that everyone has been able to enjoy the return of events like “Sounds on Center” and the “Shrimp Festival”. This should encourage AISC to bounce back into full swing soon. While our activity in May was below what we had hoped for, we were still able to keep things moving along. Water sampling continues without fail thanks to Tom Maguire and the other volunteers who continue to do a great job. On the sailing side, we managed only two boats for our monthly inshore race and just three of us competed in the Coastal Cup offshore race to St Simons. Congratulations to Tom MacArthur and his son who took first place overall, sailing their Catalina 27, Rebecca’s Reach.

We did have a decent turnout for our monthly meeting at KAC, where in the absence of a speaker we had a good discussion on the state of the club. We reviewed the need for new volunteers and a proposal for a special meeting to re-access the club’s post-pandemic strategy. Later this week, I will be sending out an email survey that will hopefully help access the desires of the membership as well as generate new ideas that will help invigorate the club. We will review the results of the survey at a special meeting Peter is championing. Details and invitations to follow.

Looking forward to seeing everyone at the next meeting at KAC on June 7th to hear about a Great Loop Adventure!

AISC Club Racing -
Cathy Eichmann

We had three competitors in this year's Coastal Cup Race and took first overall!

Congratulations to Tom MacArthur along with his son David for getting Rebecca's Reach over the finish line with the best corrected time for the seven boats in the race. And to John Drake who took third place in the non-Spinnaker Class aboard On Eagles Wings. If you missed it, the following appeared in the News Leader:

SKIPPER TAKES FIRST IN COASTAL CUP

SUBMITTED PHOTO

Skipper Tom MacArthur, second from left, along with crewmember and son, David, left, brought Rebecca's Reach over the finish of the 26-nautical mile ocean race to finish first in the non-spinnaker class and go on to take overall first place in the annual Coastal Cup race. On Eagles Wings, another Amelia Island Sailing club entry, skippered by John Drake, second from right, and crewmember Maria Barr, right, took third place in the non-spinnaker class. The Coastal Cup has participants from the Amelia Island and Golden Isles Sailing Clubs from St. Simons Island. It is one of two races held annually between the two clubs.

Hoping to have the next club race on the last Saturday of the month, June 25th.

Quartermaster –

Stan Jackson

When Tom Maguire, our former Commodore and Scuttlebutt editor, asked if I would serve as the quartermaster for the sailing club, he said that I could make the post whatever I thought it should be! Since I didn't know what quartermaster was, I started with definitions. Google says that a quartermaster is a military officer responsible for providing quarters, rations, clothing, and other supplies; or is a naval petty officer with particular responsibility for steering and signals. And as for duties that:

Quartermasters stand watch as assistants to Officers of the deck and navigators. They serve as helmsman and perform ship control, navigation and bridge watch duties.

Since I'm not a petty or military officer, and because Editor Maguire said I had to do a report for the scuttlebutt, I tried to determine what scuttlebutt meant. Again, according to Google:

The cask of drinking water on ships was called a scuttlebutt and since Sailors exchanged gossip when they gathered at the scuttlebutt for a drink of water, scuttlebutt became U.S. Navy slang for gossip or rumors.

Moreover, our website describes the Amelia Island Sailing Club as "a social club with a boating interest" and states that our common interest is "to get to know some new faces and make friends." So, applying the scuttlebutt - quartermasters' definitions to the broader club definition, my column will include gossip, rumors or advice - not necessarily limited to sailing or providing supplies - but rather all matters of potential common interest to the club members. If you have interesting tales of boating, sailing, or suggestions for excursions, speakers, or places to visit, I would love to interview you for future scuttlebutt articles, and/or possible club functions and excursions.

Of course, I will continue to offer members the various paraphernalia with insignias of our sailing club. You can order any items on the website:

or email: stan@stanjackson.com. I look forward to serving you in the post of quartermaster.

Happy boating, sailing, socializing, and travels.
